6. Teams must provide lineups prior to the start of the game. The lineup will be collected by the home team and kept with scorecard, however, both teams should keep accurate records and score for protest purposes. It is the responsibility of each manager to sign the scorecard and lineup as protests will not be honored unless signed. Both teams should make sure the score is correct after each inning, with the umpire.

Should a player be removed from the game due to an ejection and no legal substitute is available, that player will be declared out at that time and that position will remain an out when it next comes to bat.

8. Teams may choose to use the "open-ended batting order" prior to each game and must declare they are using the open or closed order at the pre-game meeting with the umpire and opposing coach. Once declared, they must use it for the entire game. Both teams do not have to use the open-ended order.

Definition, Open-ended batting order

All players present for a game bat, regardless if they play in the field or not. If 14 players are at a game, all bat in order, one through fourteen. Substitutions in the field are unlimited. If another team member arrives late, that player will bat in the last position in the order. Example: if 14 players start the game and another arrives late, that player bats number 15. (They cannot be inserted into the number 4 batting position.)

If a player is injured during the game and cannot bat, the batting order closes automatically without penalty.

If a player on a team using the open-ended order leaves the park prior to the completion of the game, the batting order may be closed and no out will occur.

9. The over-the-fence home run rule for Men;s and Co-Ed Recreational leagues: 2 over-the-fence home run limit per gender. For Men's and Co-Ed Competitive level leagues: 3 home run limit per gender. Additional home runs do not count and are ruled an out for all leagues.
10. A courtesy runner may be used once per inning for a batter reaching base and must be the last player to make an out.

1. The umpires have the authority to eject any player, coach or manager from a game for what they deem unsportsmanlike conduct including profanity. Any player ejected from a game for unsportsmanlike conduct or profanity is suspended for the next schedule game, however, that player may remain on the bench unless the unsportsmanlike conduct or profanity continues at which time the player and manager will be ejected from the park. Any player ejected for a flagrant act will be ejected from the park and will be subject to a hearing with the Parks and Recreation Department staff.
2. Two ejections for unsportsmanlike conduct during the current season will result in the player being suspended from the Portage softball leagues for one calendar year.

3. Unsportsmanlike conduct from a team or its spectators may result in a game forfeiture. Verbal abuse at any time within the park by a team or its spectators will result in removal from the park and/or suspension. It is the responsibility of the team manager, and players to restrain their team members or spectators from abusing the umpires, opposing players or opposing spectators.
4. Physical violence between players or team members shall result in immediate suspension until a disciplinary hearing is held. It will be the suspended individual's responsibility to schedule a hearing with the Parks and Recreation Department. The department will consider each case individually and will take the appropriate disciplinary action following a hearing. Penalties may range from several games to permanent suspension from Portage softball leagues.
5. Physical contact with the umpires or actions that could cause injury to an umpire may result in automatic suspension for the current season and following season and, if conditions warrant, the offending player may be permanently suspended from playing in Portage softball leagues.

If any team member or spectator associated with that team is found on this property for any reason other than ball retrieval, that player may be suspended from league play. The umpires and the Adult Softball Coordinator have the authority to declare immediate suspension. Further individual and team sanctions may come from the Adult Softball Coordinator and Parks and Recreation staff.

Only those involving an umpire's interpretation of a rule will be accepted. Protests must be submitted in writing on an official incident form, accompanied by a $25 protest fee, to the Parks and Recreation office before 5 p.m. the next business day. Protests will be handled by a committee composed of Parks and Recreation staff members. The protest fee will be refunded if the protest is upheld. Protests involving player eligibility must be made before or during the game upon discovery of the ineligible player. If a team is protesting player eligibility, the game will be played. The player in question must provide proper identification. If the player eligibility protest is valid, both the player and manager may be suspended for one calendar year and the team will forfeit all games up the time of discovery and may not be allowed to enter the league the following year.

CO-ED RULES

In addition to above rules and regulations, the following apply to CO-ED divisions:

1. Female batters will hit an 11 inch softball, male batters will hit a 12 inch softball.
2. There shall be 10 players on a side, half male and half female. If there is an unequal number of players, the females shall be more numerous, however, a team may start and continue with nine players, five male and four female, at which time the "extra" male player will be rotated with another male player in the same batting position to keep the batting order "open." The "extra" male batter can not play defense until another female arrives to even up the defensive line-up.
3. When on offense, batters will alternate, M, F, unless the females are more numerous, in which case a female could follow another female in the batting order. If the open-ended batting order is used, a late arriving male would be inserted between two female batters in the batting order.
4. Open-ended batting order, CO-ED example: Additional male batters may be substituted for each other in the same batting slot if the manager declares this option prior to the start of a co-ed game. The managers of the respective teams will be responsible for monitoring each other's rosters and correcting the lineup if discrepancies take place. An example of this ruling is 8 male players and 7 female players show up for a game and alternate male-female batters. The "extra" male batter may be rotated with another male batter in the same batting position to keep the batting order "open" rather than reverting to a "closed" batting order.

*Example of 5 Males & 4 Females
